

USER AGREEMENT

effective 12.01.2024

This User Agreement (the “Terms”) establishes the terms and conditions that apply and govern your use of the Services of Trust Fractal GmbH, Kochhannstraße 6, 10249 Berlin, Germany (referred to as “Fractal”, “we”, and “us”) as a user. These terms are legally binding, thus we ask that you read them very carefully.

These Terms do not alter or control in any way other written terms or conditions or other agreements you have agreed to with Fractal. Additionally, if you are representing a legal entity (such as a business), by using these Services you are warranting that you have authority to bind that entity to these terms. You must also have the legal capacity to agree to these legal terms and conform to the eligibility requirements found below to agree to these terms and use Fractal’s Services.

By clicking “I agree” or otherwise using the Services you agree to be bound by these Terms and any other terms referenced by these Terms.

1. The Services

Fractal offers software which includes applications and services that are owned, licensed, managed and/or developed by Fractal (“Services”). These include Fractal ID, Fractal Wallet, DID Registry, Credentials Mechanism, Fractal Protocol Rewards and Staking Mechanism. The Fractal ID, Fractal Wallet, DID Registry, Credential Mechanism and Fractal Protocol Rewards are further detailed below. The Staking Mechanism is subject to the separate Staking User Agreement that you might enter into with Fractal.

Fractal ID offers various levels of identification (e.g., ID Basic and ID Plus) - “ID Levels”. Different ID Levels require you to provide different information and supporting documentation, and to undergo different processes. By signing-up with Fractal ID you will be granted access to an identity wallet, through which you can upload your identity information, have it verified for the purposes of onboarding with the services of our “Integrators” (companies that use our software solution to onboard their customers), and continue to manage your identity information throughout the duration of your relationship with us. Also included in the Services is transmission of certain parts of your data to our Integrators so that you may verify your eligibility to use and login to those third party services and into those services. When you register and/or maintain an account and/or a business relationship with an Integrator, you instruct us to share all such KYC (Know Your Customer) data , which may include, in particular, but without limitation, your name, nationality, country of residence, address, IP address, wallet address, email address, phone number, place of birth, date of birth, identification document information, personal photo, biometric face scans, financial details, and company/workplace details, with the respective Integrator.

By installing Fractal chrome wallet extension (plug-in), available on the Google chrome web store: <https://chrome.google.com/webstore/category/extensions> (“Fractal Wallet”), you will be able to see, if available, any displayed information about any staking activities that you might have conducted under the separate Staking User Agreement that you might have entered into with Fractal.

Upon being approved for a certain ID Level, you will be assigned a unique identifier - "Fractal ID Identifier", in the context of a "DID Registry" that Fractal may maintain on public and/or private blockchains and/or off-chain. The DID Registry maps Fractal ID Identifiers, each corresponding to a unique person, to a set of wallet addresses that the person chose to verify with Fractal. The DID Registry additionally allows for the creation of multiple "Arbitrary Membership Lists", such as "ID Level you are approved for", and Fractal adds or removes Fractal ID Identifiers from those lists. Fractal reserves the right to create Arbitrary Membership Lists, at its sole discretion, and to add or remove your Fractal ID Identifier from those lists in case, at its sole discretion, Fractal considers any addition or removal to be no longer valid or accurate, allowing third parties with whom you may register and/or maintain an account and/or business relationship with to enforce sanctions and/or conform with compliance obligations.

You additionally instruct us to issue, in public and/or private blockchains and/or off-chain registries of other entities, such as Gnosis Chain registry for example, your provided wallet addresses, ID Levels, and any other information required or requested by the entity or the registry mechanisms. Fractal reserves the right to add or remove your wallet addresses, ID Levels and any other information required or requested by the entity or the registry mechanisms from such registries, at its sole discretion, in case, at its sole discretion, Fractal considers any addition or removal to be no longer valid or accurate, allowing third parties with whom you may register and/or maintain an account and/or business relationship with, to enforce sanctions and/or conform with compliance obligations. Fractal reserves the right to discontinue such DID Registries at its sole discretion at any time.

Additionally, we partner with our Integrators and other companies - together, our "Partners" - to offer you a variety of "Deals" (e.g., bonuses for registering with our Partners, discounts in trading fees when using our Partners' services, etc.). You instruct us to find Deals for you and send you emails or SMSs (depending on the method you used to sign-up with Fractal) notifying you of the Deals we sourced and providing you with the information you need to participate.

You instruct us to share your e-mail address, mobile phone number (depending on the registration method you selected), as well as social media accounts/handles and any other means of communication you provide us, with Partners in order to be directly contacted by them about products and services. You may opt out of such a feature at any time by sending an e-mail to privacy@fractal.id. Fractal does not offer nor employs individuals to offer such Partner's products or services. You acknowledge that Fractal does not supervise, direct, control or monitor Partners in the offering of these products or performance of these services and agree that we are not responsible for the offering, performance or procurement of these products or services, that we do not endorse any particular Partner's offered product or services, and that nothing shall create an employment, agency, or joint venture relationship between Fractal and any Partner. You agree that we are not responsible for Partner's or others' content or information and that we are not responsible for any misuse of our Services.

You instruct us to share your data with third party service providers for the purpose of improvement of the system, debugging and other operations of similar nature. You also instruct us to get information you provided to third parties based on Section 662 BGB (Bürgerliches Gesetzbuch, German Civil Code) in connection with the provision of the Services.

1.1. Credentials Mechanism

Upon being approved for a certain ID Level, the credentials mechanism ("Credentials Mechanism") automatically issues a credential carrying Fractal's attestation that you are approved for that ID Level ("Credential"). The Credential is issued by Fractal upon an approval for a certain ID Level.

By installing Fractal Wallet, you will have instant access to the Credentials that are eventually issued to you and may be able to interact with third-parties, deciding whether or not to share your Credentials with such third-parties. You may share your Credentials with third parties that wish to rely on such Credentials for several purposes, for example, onboarding you into their services. This process is solely controlled by you and we have no intervention in it whatsoever. When a third-party wishes to access your Credential, your Fractal Wallet will be prompted to ask you to authorize or decline sharing your Credential with the third-party. Such authorization can also be granted via an authorization link (e.g. via OAuth solution) as an alternative method if access to your Credentials is not requested within Fractal Wallet. The Fractal Wallet is simply provided to facilitate your interaction with third-parties, but does not grant us any control or power over such interactions.

Third-parties can verify your Credentials either off-chain, via Fractal's Software Development Kit, or on-chain. If the third-party verifies your Credential on-chain, that implies the issuance of such Credential on-chain, which corresponds to creating a unique cryptographic hash of your ID Level taking into account all the ID Level fields and values (e.g., email-address, name, passport number), and storing it on-chain, specifically in a smart contract deployed by Fractal or the third-party ("Credentials Smart Contract"). No original data is determinable from the hashes and Fractal signs the hash / Credential. The ID Level fields and values are stored off-chain, on Fractal Wallet. By authorizing the verification of your Credential by third-parties you will be enabling such third-parties to verify that you are the owner of a certain Credential existent in the Credentials Smart Contract, and you transmit the ID Level fields and values stored in your Fractal Wallet. Fractal reserves the right to revoke its signature of your Credential in case, at its sole discretion, Fractal considers your Credential is no longer valid or accurate.

Unless stated otherwise, the Credentials Mechanism is free of charge. However, you may be charged a transaction fee for performing certain transactions (e.g. a deposit to a third party) when sharing your Credential with third-parties within Fractal Wallet. This fee covers the cost of a transaction on the blockchain. The amount charged to you will be indicated to you before you incur any costs related to this process.

In order to be eligible to use the Credentials Mechanism, you must (i) have a Fractal ID account; and (ii) be approved for a certain ID Level, in addition to the conditions to use the Services by Fractal as listed in these Terms.

1.2. Fractal Protocol Rewards

Fractal may determine from time to time, at its sole discretion, to distribute rewards in Fractal Tokens ("FCL") or in any other token, including, but not limited to, as set forth in section 1.2.1. below, in accordance with these Terms and any terms and conditions made available to you within such distributions ("Distributions"). You may also be provided with information about the distribution of rewards on our website, social media or direct communications that you receive from us. In case of discrepancy between the information contained therein and the information in these Terms, the information in these Terms shall prevail. We in our sole discretion will determine the eligibility criteria for each distribution and the procedures, if existent, for receiving rewards, as well its day, time and delivery method. Any failure to notify you or distribute rewards to you using the information you provided is outside our control and, hence, shall not result in any responsibility whatsoever being attributed to us. We are not responsible for notifying you if and when any rewards are distributed. Reward amounts received by each eligible user may differ, depending on criteria determined by us. At our own and sole discretion, we can initiate or terminate or make any changes to any distribution. The right to receive rewards in any distribution is not transferable. No cash alternative or substitution of the rewards are allowed, except we reserve the right in our sole discretion to substitute rewards for any equivalent alternative as we may determine. All potential taxes are your sole responsibility.

1.2.1. KYC Rewards
